The right seal for the job

A broken O-ring seal can result in leakages, spoiled product and unplanned downtime. In aggressive, chemical processing environments it may be life threatening. The cost of a breakdown vastly outstrips that of installing the correct quality and grade of seal in the first place.

For critical, harsh or high temperature applications, we recommend Kalrez® from DuPont Performance Elastomers.

DuPont™ Kalrez® perfluoroelastomer parts

DuPont™ Krytox® high performance lubricants

Krytox® oils and greases extend the service life of critical components and improve productivity by reducing component failure. They handle extreme temperature, pressure and corrosive materials.

Krytox® is used in the most challenging and exacting chemical, mining and manufacturing environments.

- Prevent fluid leakage
- Protect against corrosion
- Reduce maintenance
- Food and pharmaceutical grades
- Non toxic
